GOV. MARSHALL SPEAKS TONIGHT

Will Arrive This Evening at Six O'clock For Address to be Delivered in Davis' Barn.

COMMITTEE GOES TO MEET HIM

Good Crowd is Expected to Hear the State's Executive—Thomas H.
Honan Will Talk.

Local Democrats have completed every arrangement for the entertainment of Governor Thomas R. Marshall, who will deliver an address in the Davis Brothers' new sale barn here this evening. He will be preceded by Thomas M. Honan of Seymour, Democratic candidate for attorney general. A committee went to Indianapolis this afternoon to meet the governor and will accompany him here this evening. Lieutenant Governor Frank J. Hall will introduce the State's executive this evening.

The reception committee, Lieutenant Governor Frank J. Hall, Mayor B. A. Black, Ben L. Smith, F. E. Wolcott and J. B. Schriebe went to Indianapolis this afternoon on the 2:14 C. H. & D. to meet the governor. The party will arrive here at 5:55 o'clock over the C. H. & D. and will go to the home of F. E. Wolcott at the corner of Eighth and Perkins streets, where Gov. Marshall and Lieut. Gov. Hall will be entertained at dinner.

Thomas M. Honan, who will give a short address before Mr. Marshall, arrived here this morning from Richmond. According to the Indianapolis Star the candidate for attorney general will speak in Indianapolis this evening, but local Democrats say that is a mistake and that Mr. Honan will remain here for the meeting tonight. Mr. Honan was entertained at the home of J. T. Arbuckle in West Second street at noon today and will be a guest at the home of Donald Smith in North Harrison street this evening for dinner.

The Davis sale barn has been filled with seats and it is expected that all of the large crowd which is expected can be easily handled.

DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Three-Year-Old Daughter of Supt.
Jesse Ailes Succumbs.

Ina, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ailes of Richland died at four-twenty o'clock this morning of pneumonia after a brief illness. The little girl was taken ill suddenly Sunday afternoon and her demise came rather unexpectedly early this morning. Mr. Ailes is superintendent of the Richland schools.

HEAR FROM ST. PAUL BAKER

Third Emigrant From Town is in Indianapolis.

Walter Adams, the third member of the quartet that suddenly shook the dust of St. Paul from their clothes several weeks ago in quick succession, has been heard from. A St. Paul resident saw him in Indianapolis a few days ago and Adams stated that he had decided to make that city his home in the future. The other three men who disappeared have all been located.

—W. R. Jinnett of Manila was a visitor in this city today.

MARRIED IN THIS CITY

Rosedale Couple Keep Wedding Secret For Sixty Days.

According to the Rosedale, Ind., Tribune, the wedding of Miss Mabel Taylor and Henry Kelch has just been made public. The couple came to this city on August 20, and were married, County Clerk Norris issuing the license. Since that time their marriage has been kept a secret.

MAIN STREET IS A BUSY PLACE

32,061 Bricks Were Put in Place by One Man Yesterday—No Mean Record.

WORK IN BUSINESS SECTION

Yesterday was a very busy day for old Main street. There were exactly thirty-two thousand and sixty-one brick laid, which is not half bad when you take into consideration that they had the intersection of an alley and a street to fix. By tonight it is expected that the brick will be in place as far down as the J. M. & I. railroad.

The cement gutters are being placed in the business section and will soon be completed to the mill race. The city is installing the conduits for the new street lights and the work is about completed. The excavation, between third and fourth streets is about completed and will soon be ready for the concrete.

The company has no definite idea just how far they will carry the work this fall, but will push the work as rapidly as possible.

GAME SATURDAY WITH NEW SALEM

High School Football Team Will Not Disband, But Will Play Throughout the Season.

WILL GO TO NEW CASTLE NOV. 3

It was rumored yesterday that the local high school football team would disband for the season. The reason given for this action was that several of the best players had "flunked" the examinations recently held. All this proved false, however, and the team will continue throughout the season. Saturday they will take on New Salem, in what promises to be a fast contest. A week from Saturday they will go to New Castle to meet the fast team of that place. All of the local players are in good condition, after the contest last week with Cambridge City, and are working hard each evening, preparing for New Salem.

HELD MEETING AT RICHLAND

John Kiplinger and A. E. Martin Addressed Republicans of Richland Township Last Night.

BOTH DELIVERED GOOD TALKS

Hold Attention of Audience With Discussions of the Various Issues of the Day.

A large number of local politicians journeyed to Richland last night, where John Kiplinger and A. E. Martin addressed a meeting in the school house of that place. The crowd was a large one and the enthusiasm shown was great.

Mr. Kiplinger discussed the tariff in regard to the benefits derived by the farmer. He showed that the farmer of today never received better prices for his products. The theory of protection is no longer one of speculation, but one that has shown itself to be practical as well as beneficial.

Mr. Martin showed where the Democrats had promised a reduction in the expenditures of the government when they have a Democratic House and Senate their expenditures exceeded the preceding Republican congress $40,000,000. The Democratic administration thus far have failed to pay a single penny on the State debt. Governor Marshall was criticized for employing a legal advisor and thus creating a useless expenditure of money.

The prosperity of the country was never better than today. The farmer gets better prices, lives better and has more enjoyment in life. Labor has never been so scarce as it is now. Farmers have a hard time getting help which is one indication that this is true. We have an example of this here in Rushville said Mr. Martin. The contractors on the brick street were compelled to import men from Chicago in order to carry on the work. This all goes to show that the country is enjoying unlimited prosperity. He said the Democratic party was one of promise and not of performances.

The men from here who made the trip to Richland included, Clara Bebout, Charles Brooks, Nathan Weeks, Peter Hollowell, Thomas J. Humes, Birney Spaulding and Walter Miller.

GIVES SPELLING BEE PLANS

Assistant Superintendent Advises
School Officials on Contest.

Doubt having arisen among the school officials of the State, who are interested in the selection of words in the spelling contests, a letter was sent out yesterday by E. G. Bunnell, assistant State superintendent of Indianapolis, informing the officials of the scope to be covered. Participants in the spelling contests first will be given words from the Alexander speller. Then the spellers are to be subjected to a test on the words in the various text-books. If there are contestants remaining after all of these tests the field, it is advised, is to be quite general.

BROUGHT GOOD PRICES.

At the Perry-Lovejoy sale at Fal-mouth Monday Mr. Lovejoy sold thirty-one head of hogs for the sum of $942, averaging $30.38 per head. Ten male hogs each averaged $38.33. Mr. Perry sold hogs to the amount of $1512, averaging $38.77, with ten males at an average of $54.90.

IT'S SAME STORY IN EVERY PLACE

Incidents Every Day Prove the Fact That the Tariff is Purely a Personal Matter.

LETTER FROM CLAUDE SIMPSON

In Which he Gives Opinions of Roswell Man Toward Payne-Aldrich Bill.

In a letter written here from Roswell, New Mexico, Claude Simpson, former editor of the Daily Republican, gives the views of Republicans in that district on the tariff, which was passed by the last congress. The communication only slips another link in the proof that the tariff is purely a personal matter. Every congressman, Republican and Democrat alike, works for his constituents first regardless of politics. In the case of tariff legislation, the representative always seeks to better the conditions of the people of his district by protecting their product. The letter follows:

Some time some where it seems to me I have heard something about the tariff in Indiana. I'm sure I have on second thought, and I know I hear it discussed down here quite frequently.

In the first place I will admit that I am in one respect like a certain insurgent editor—he admitted that he had never read the tariff bill. (Albeit he was attacking it right and left and calling it all kinds of names that would be promptly condemned by any perfect lady.)

Another remembrance that comes stamping up and blustering out a "good morning" is something about the woolen schedule. If I mistake not the woolen schedule has been the cause of musing up the atmosphere in a good many places in the east and north. More than that—it has been because it was too high. Oh, my, yes, the country was going to ruin fast all because that woolen schedule was too high! Exorbitant, robbery, unreasonable, and I think I have heard it called graft—by insurgents and Democrats.

Well then a short time ago can you wonder at my being a bit shocked to find the local papers harping on the woolen schedule—but horrors, it was crying because it was not high enough! I read it and re-read it, but it said the woolen schedule was far too low. And it called upon the sheep men to turn out the Republican congress because it had failed to raise that schedule. Then I remembered that I was in a wool growing country and that, of course, they would want a high tariff on wool.

I was somewhat amused a short time later to hear a discussion between an Indiana Republican and a Roswell Democrat. And I will try to give what I can of the discussion as it took place. They had started out on politics in general and landed on the tariff in particular as most political discussions do.

"Well, then if the tariff is too high, can you give me the logic of your Democratic paper here crying because it is not high enough now?" asked the Indiana Republican.

"Certainly. New Mexico needs a high woolen schedule to give the wool growers a fair profit on their product. It is selfishness, I admit, but then we think we should have it," replied the Roswell Democrat.

"All right call it selfishness. That is exactly what every man in congress was doing—fighting for his constituents. If his constituents were cotton growers, he demanded a high tariff on cotton, he he Democrat or Republican. If from a lumber State, he declared the country was shipwrecked unless the lumber duty was raised. But he insisted that everything else be lowered. There they were—everybody fighting for his constituents' interests. What could you have done about it?" asked the Indiana man.

"President Taft should have vetoed the bill," replied the New Mexican.

"And then what would have happened?"

"Why—er—why I guess the bill would have been lost."

"And there would have been no tariff legislation, leaving the thing exactly where it was before all that work. I think your own argument should convince you," said the Indiana man.

"Oh, well it is a big question," admitted the Roswell man.

And I agreed with him—even though I had never read the tariff bill.

TO HAVE BIGGEST CAMPAIGN MEETING

Carthage Prepares to Hear Speeches
by A. E. Martin and William L. Taylor Tonight.

LOCAL CANDIDATES WILL GO

Carthage is to have its biggest Republican meeting of the campaign this evening, when William L. Taylor of Indianapolis and A. E. Martin of South Bend will speak. The occasion will be turned into the nature of a rally, the committees there having made preparations for a big demonstration. Several local candidates will attend.

Tomorrow night A. E. Martin and John H. Kiplinger will speak at Moscow. They have been making a very strenuous campaign over the county this week and their addresses have met with approval everywhere.

Milroy will swim in Republicanism Saturday, when a big Republican rally will be held there. William Harding will speak in the afternoon and A. E. Martin and John H. Kiplinger, at night. A band will be engaged for the day.

OFFER REWARD FOR FIRE ALARMISTS

Twenty-Five Dollars Will be Given For Capture of Person Turning in False Alarms.

HEAVY FINE FOR THE OFFENSE

At the regular monthly meeting of the Rushville fire company last evening, the recent numerous false alarms was the principal topic for discussion. It was decided that a reward of twenty-five dollars would be offered for the capture or the information that would lead to the capture of any one who turns in a false alarm. They consulted the old city records and found that there is an ordinance in effect now which provides that the offender in such a case, if convicted, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars and that a jail sentence of six months shall be imposed.

The city firemen have had considerable trouble of late with outsiders riding the wagons to a fire. They discovered that there is a fine provided for in a city ordinance for any person or persons riding on the fire apparatus aside from the regular city firemen.

FIX THOUGHTS ON RALLY DAY

Local Republican Committee Making
Every Effort to Attract Immense Crowd Here Saturday.

SEND OUT PERSONAL LETTERS

Interest of Politicians Over the Sixth District Centered on Next to Last Speech by Beveridge.

Every indication points to the fact that the big Republican rally, which will be held here the last Saturday before the election, November fifth, will be one of the most important meetings in the State during this campaign. Politicians from all parts of the State are expected to gather here to hear Beveridge in the next to the last speech of the campaign, as he will make only one more after that, and that will be in Indianapolis on the night of the day he talks here. It is also expected that a number of men interested in politics will come here to hear James E. Watson in the evening since he will deliver few speeches in Indiana during this campaign. Prominent Republican politicians from all over the sixth district will gather to hear Beveridge as it is the last of three speeches which he makes in the old burnt district.

Every effort is being extended by the Republican county committee to make the rally the day of all days in this campaign. Personal letters have been sent out to Republican leaders asking them to lend their presence to the day and assist in making it a great meeting. Republican clubs over the State, including the Marion club of Indianapolis have been invited by special correspondence to come here that day in a body and assist in the demonstration.

Although no word has been received from any of the communications, which were just sent out, it is believed at any rate that the crowd of visitors from other cities and counties will be present. It is about the only opportunity that people of the Sixth district will have to hear their former congressman, who represented them in the national house of representatives for several terms. It is the best chance that many of the people in the surrounding cities and counties will have to see and hear Senator Beveridge, as he has not been in this section of the State very much, even though his campaign has been very extensive and strenuous.

For all the reasons mentioned, the local committee believes that the crowd here on the rally day will surpass all former rally day crowds. Personal letters are being sent to all of the newspapers in the district asking their aid in bringing an immense gathering here to hear the two prominent statesmen.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

Dr. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgment.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

WORK OF PEETZ EARNS PRAISES

Labor Men Are Strong In Urging Statistician's Election.

LABOR BUREAU MAKES GOOD

Author of Law and Enforcer of Statute Is Given Credit For Success of Beneficent Bureau Where Poor May Obtain Help to Land Job and Be Safe From Swindlers Who Formerly Preyed Upon Him.

One of the strong men on the Republican state ticket, because of his expert fitness for office, and because of his popularity, is J. L. Peetz, state statistician. Mr. Peetz is assured of re-election because he has proved his ability and his experience is of large value to the state. His opponent not only is inexperienced, but is admittedly not qualified for the important position of statistician.

Mr. Peetz shows unexpected strength as a vote-getter among the labor men of the state as well as among the farmers and business men. There's a reason.

Mr. Peetz drew the bill under which the Free Employment Bureau was created. Labor men assisted in preparing this bill and in urging its enactment. Mr. Peetz, without an extra appropriation from the state, has put the bureau in operation, has conducted it with an eye to the interests of needy laborers, and has proved the wisdom and the value of the new system.

In the first nine months of the operation of the bureau, jobs were obtained for 1,527 persons. Many of these were the parents of families in destitute circumstances. Not only did the free bureau save these poor people many thousands of dollars in fees, in the aggregate, but the operation of the bureau means many thousands saved to the taxpayers. Scores of families have been saved from charity and have been made independent through the beneficence of the free employment bureau.

Along the same reform line as the law, also urged by Mr. Peetz, for the regulation of private employment agencies. Fees have been fixed by this law, licenses have been required, and in several cases Mr. Peetz has sent swindlers to jail for defrauding laborers under pretense of obtaining employment for them.

WHO'S FOR KERN.

Roll Call Reveals Presence Of Sturdy Steve In Lone Grandeur.

Well, let's count. There's Mr. Bryan, he's for Kern for United States senator. But Mr. Bryan is from Nebraska, and is not running for the legislature in Indiana. So his vote doesn't count.

There is Governor T. R. Marshall. He's for Kern. But Mr. Marshall doesn't vote in the Democratic legislative caucus. So he can be rubbed off.

Crawford Fairbanks has said he is for Mr. Kern. But members of the third house do not cast votes in caucus. So he doesn't count either.

Thomas Taggart is for Mr. Kern for United States senator. Taggart says so. But he is not on the legislative ticket, and will not cast a ballot in caucus. So he can be dropped.

John J. Keegan, a candidate for representative in Marion county, has come out for Kern. But Keegan cannot be elected. So it is not safe to count him.

Steve Fleming is for Mr. Kern. He has so announced in the press. Now we are getting down to assets. Fleming counts. He is a holdover senator. He will have a vote. So at last we have discovered the Kern vote. It is Steve Fleming.

Indiana Railroad Commission Begins Investigation.

A WINTER TIE-UP IS FEARED

Apparent Shortage of Equipment on the Part of the Roads Creates the Fear That the Roads Will Find Themselves Flooded With Coal Orders and With No Cars With Which to Take Care of Them.

Indianapolis, Oct. 27.—Shortage of equipment of railroads will be taken up by the Indiana railroad commission. Chairman Wood says that many cars that were made to do service last year in emergencies, are unfit for another season of usage, and the chairman fears that at a critical time during the coming winter the railroads will find themselves flooded with coal orders and with no cars with which to take care of them.

"One reason for the shortage," says Chairman Wood, "is the fact that under a ruling of the interstate commerce commission, a railroad is compelled to pay only 25 cents a day for a car belonging to another company which it appropriates to its own use. The roads have found it cheaper to pay the nominal sum than to build cars, while they do not relish the idea of building cars for their own use when they are likely to be seized by another company and used for an indefinite time at the price set out in the ruling. It seems to me that it will be necessary to readjust the ruling in the interest of better shipping facilities."

Mines Forced to Shut Down.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Chicago faces a coal shortage. Many yards are almost empty with the incoming supply about equal to the demand, and it is predicted that a sudden drop in temperature would result in suffering. Present conditions are attributed to shortage of cars on the railroads. Several large Indiana coal fields are practically idle, with a demand for fuel which would have justified working every mine to its full capacity. Where work was suspended the reason given was that the railroads supplied an insufficient number of cars to carry the coal.

IT BECAME PERSONAL

Law and Order Folks and Saloon Keepers Mix It at Laporte.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 27.—There was a street riot on Main street, in front of the office of Prosecutor R. N. Smith, between a number of saloon keepers and members of the Law and Order League. More than 200 people were involved in the affair, and it required a squad of police, with Chief Meinke at the head, to quell the disorder. Four men were arrested. Black eyes, bruised faces and bloody noses were the general order of those who were in the thick of the fight.

Eight saloon keepers had been arrested for violating the closing laws, and after reaching the closing laws, and while in front of the prosecutor's office, the bad blood between the members of the league and the saloon keepers cropped out. One word led to another, and in a second the crowd was in a mix-up. R. C. and S. C. Hunt, of the league, were first attacked and after one had been knocked down and kicked, they waded into the saloon keepers and in a few minutes they had "cleaned up" William C. Smith, Charles Hammersly, John Smith and Frank Lapham. Others then took a hand in the fracas, and it gave promise of being a regular battle when the police arrived.

Terre Haute Starts Movement For Commission Form of Government.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 27.—Terre Haute will ask the legislature to make it possible for the city to have a commission form of government. The Young Business Men's club will take charge of the movement to get the measure through the legislature. The high tax rate, notwithstanding the largely increased tax valuation, has caused a desire to be free of the present form of government.

CAMPAIGN COLLAPSES

Attempts to Organize Democrats Under Taggart Have Failed.

(Special Correspondent.)

Indianapolis, Oct. 27.—The collapse of the Taggart campaign is almost complete. Attempts to organize Democrats under Taggart have failed. The efforts of Stokes Jackson, grand marshal of Taggartism have not availed. The energies of Sam Ralston, field marshal of the Taggart clans have brought nothing but disappointment. Kern's efforts to find out the trouble and to aid local workers rally the scattered Democrats have accomplished nothing tangible for the Taggart cause. Senator Shively, disgusted with the farcical campaign conducted by Jackson, Ralston and Kern, has drawn into his hole and is nursing a sore toe in the quiet of his couch of rest. John E. Lamb went forth and spoke a sufficient number of times to make himself "regular." Bryan has done thus much and no more. Governor Marshall has put up a brave show of devotion to party, partly because he is a candidate for president, partly because he is a deep-dyed partisan, and partly because he likes to hear himself talk. But while the speakers, few in number and barren of texts, have been going over the state trying to induce the hurried wedding guests to pause and listen to old men's tales of calamity, the Democratic organization has suffered seriously.

The demoralization of the Democratic organization began before the Democratic state convention when John E. Lamb, voicing the sentiments of the Democratic governor, denounced Taggartism in unmeasured terms of wrath and scorn, and heaped contempt on Crawford Fairbanks and other bosses. Confusion was assured when Governor Marshall fought Taggart for control of the state convention, and having won a single minor point, lost all the rest to Taggart and to force of numbers. Taggart's brazen parade of his triumph over his foes was too much for the anti-Taggart men to stand. They might have remained in line and submitted, but Taggart insisted on rubbing it in, and persisted in showing his undoubted power. He made the anti-Taggart men jump through and roll over. But they finally revolted, and now refuse to play dead at the command of the boss. They resented Taggart's appearance as presiding officer at the A. B. Parker meeting the other night. They resented Taggart's appearance as first among the vice presidents of the Bryan meeting in Indianapolis. They resented Taggart's assumption of personal control of the state campaign last week, for they know that what Taggart controls and manages before election he will control and manage after election. Even the most partisan Democrat hesitates to turn over the state to Taggart and his horde of self-seeking henchmen.

Just at a time when Taggart, through all his acts and agencies is proving to the people that he is the Big It in the Democratic organization of 1910, the Republicans of Indiana are emphasizing in all their campaign efforts the fact that they refuse to bow to bossism in any form. Senator Beveridge, speaking at Washington, gives the war cry to progressive Republicanism in these plain words:

"You might as well understand that I prefer to go out of public life rather than to get a quiet whisper from some little boss as to what I shall do for the American people."

Over against this is the summons sent out by Taggart to some of his henchmen and satellites: "Meet me at Room No. 370, Denison hotel, Sunday afternoon." Well, the trusty ones, including John W. Kern and the Democratic state candidates, met Taggart at Room No. 370. And there plans were made for the conduct of the Taggart campaign along lines peculiar to Taggartism. That room is the source of the slanderous stories now being circulated so busily by Democrats.

It was in that same hotel, perhaps in the same room, that the secret ballot scheme of 1909 was hatched and formulated by the bosses who are led by Taggart. It was in the Denison, perhaps in room No. 370, that plans were laid to strip John Kern of his senatorial chest protector, and to send him forth to face the cold of winter. It was in room 27 or room 370, no matter about the detail, that Tom Taggart dealt with Democratic state candidates in 1908 for control of state offices in case these subservient candidates were elected.

It was to the Denison that Tom Marshall went in 1908 to get the text for his speech against ministers made at Terre Haute in that campaign. It was from the Denison that Marshall obtained inspiration for his recent declarations against existing temperance laws, and for his attacks on church people who take active parts in civic movements. It was in the Denison, under Taggartism, perhaps in room 370, that Taggart's resolutions committee marked out the endorsement of Marshall for president last spring, and this was done at the command of Taggartism, and in the interests of Harmon of Ohio, the Parker-Ryan-Belmont Wall street crowd, and the big interests which use Taggart and his kind. The people are on to Taggart. He cannot win in Indiana in a square fight. And the fight this year is absolutely clean cut and on the square.

SAVED PLUCKY CAPTAIN WELLS

Loyal Old Sea Dog Rescued From Watery Grave.

WOULD NOT DESERT HIS SHIP

An Incident of the Recent Gulf Storm That Is More Interesting Than Many a Bit of Fiction That Has Gained Fame For Writers of Sea Tales—Stuck to Waterlogged Vessel and Sees Her Towed Into Port.

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 27.—The steamer Barkwood, Captain J. F. Allison, Trinidad to Galveston, has reached port, having in tow the schooner Holliswood and its skipper, E. E. Walls, who was picked up 200 miles off the coast of Campeche, Mexico, on Thursday, Oct. 27. The aged captain was delirious and exposure and hunger and thirst were fast claiming him when the steamer, which had been blown about 200 miles out of its course, responding to the distress signals flying from the derelict, came alongside.

Unable to stand up, the skipper, prostrate on the storm-battered deck, weakly gave orders to his crew, which he imagined was still around him. But a week's nourishment and nursing on board the Barkwood brought him back to normal condition and he told the story of how his crew of seven men quit him on Monday, Oct. 17, when the steamship Harold, Captain Berg, bound for New York, came alongside.

The crew begged the captain to abandon her and go aboard the Harold. He refused unless the Harold would take the schooner in tow, but Captain Berg of the Harold said a man would be insane to attempt such a risk and if he did not want to come aboard he could "stay on the damned tub." The seven sailors and the ship's dog were taken aboard the Harold, and the sailors predicted that in three hours the Holliswood would go to pieces and her skipper go to the bottom.

"I could not ask the boys to stick to the schooner after their bitter experience in the hurricane, and considering the battered condition of the schooner," said Walls, who appears little the worse for his experience, "but the master of the Harold might have left me food and fresh water. No, not a drop nor a crumb did they leave me. Of course our stores were ruined because we sighted the Harold, but because I would not abandon my boat, they were not anxious about supplying me with food or water, presuming that in a few hours I would be a dead one, and it would be a waste of stores to put anything aboard the Holliswood."

"I gave the mate a letter to send to Pendleton Bros., of New York, the owners, but they did not get any letter from me for my wife. That was too trifling a matter to bother about. I asked the mate to wait a few minutes until I could pencil a few words to my wife, and I did write a few lines. But when I came upon deck again the Harold was steaming away from the schooner and I resigned myself to my fate."

"I knew if the Holliswood stuck together the 700,000 feet and more of lumber would help keep her afloat, and it did. On the night of the second day after we parted I lost consciousness and when I woke up I was on board the Barkwood and the old Holliswood, when the seven brave laddies deserted, was alongside in tow. I suppose another day or two and I should have passed out, for I was about all in from exposure and an emptiness about the grub-basket which was worse than seasickness."

FLEW IN THE WIND

Stiff Gale Did Not Deter Bird Men at Belmont Park.

New York, Oct. 27.—A rickety wind that ripped across Belmont park out of the southwest yesterday for forty miles an hour in the forenoon and which was still blowing eighteen miles an hour in the afternoon, at first caused the officials to announce to the fliers that the management intended to prohibit any of the airmen from leaving the ground. But the Wright camp finally was able to get permission to send its machines into the wind, and at 3:05 o'clock the good-sized crowd was gladdened by the sight of Ralph N. Johnstone taking the air for an exhibition flight.

Arch Hoxsey followed him. The two sailed high and got away with it, thus encouraging the other fliers so much that by the time the wind had dropped to fifteen miles toward sunset, there were at one time two Bleriot's, an Antoinette, a Curtiss and four Wright machines circling the field, while some place below the eastern horizon two or three more foreign fliers were clipping the wind in the cross-country flight.

Before night fell the grandstands saw flying that from a spectacular viewpoint surpassed any flying ever seen in New York.

Woman Burned to Death. South Bend, Ind., Oct. 27.—Mrs. August Cadden, mistaking gasoline for kerosene, attempted to start a fire with the fluid and received burns that caused her death in a hospital an hour later. The Imperial Universal Three Flue Base Burner

The Most Economical

The Most Powerful

The Most Durable

The Most Economical because it burns less coal than any other Base Burner on the market.

The Most Powerful because it will heat more space than any other Base Burner of the same size fire bowl with less amount of coal.

The Most Durable because it is made by the best skilled workmen and the very best material that can be obtained.

IMPERIAL UNIVERSAL

Any Base Burner Will Burn Coal

and any Base Burner will heat your ceiling. But what you want is a Base Burner that will heat your floor.

We positively guarantee the Imperial Universal to be a perfect floor heater and will heat your floor more uniformly and with less fuel than any other Base Burner made. It costs no more than any other high grade Base Burner and will pay for itself in a few years in economy of fuel.

The Imperial Universal Base Burner has Patent Duplex grates with outside shaking ring which operates on Ball Bearings, working easily with practically no friction and will not bind or stick when stove is hot.

All Mica Doors, Ash Pit Doors, Swing Top, Main Top and automatic magazine cover, are machine faced so as to prevent any leakage of gas. All nicker parts, Fire Bowl, Duplex Grates, Mica Doors, Magazine and Magazine Covers can be easily removed without taking out a bolt or a screw, thus making it very easy for two men to carry the stove anywhere.

Come in and let us demonstrate this stove to you and you will be convinced as well as we are that it is the Greatest Improved and Best Stove on the market.

No one has yet dared to ask T. R. face to face whether he will run in 1912.

The Abruzzi-Elkins marriage is said to be finally off. Never before was so liberal an offer to put gold trimmings on European titles turned down.

They convicted Crippen in five days in England, while in this country at that time the lawyers would just be getting their inshoots over the home plate.

The Democrats condemn Republican extravagance, but can anyone name the day and date when any one of them voted to have the pork barrel skip his district?

People who don't like the New Nationalism should favor a New Stateism. Our State governments must do something more than join the bread line for office hand outs.

$500,000 for air navigation is to be added to the next military appropriation bill. At the present union prices that will only hire a dozen aviators about a month.

Why should we take steps toward free trade, when about every European government but England has gone back on the idea, and even in England there is an ever growing movement toward protection.

A Democratic Congress means another log rolling, trading tariff, with favors to the Democratic districts. A Republican Congress means a tariff commission to find out the difference between cost of production here and abroad, and a tariff to coincide with that difference.

Records of the pension office at Washington show that about ninety names a day are being dropped from the pension rolls. The average is equivalent to about 2700 deaths a month, or about 32,000 annually, among the federal survivors of the civil war who are carried on the pension lists.

The voters will soon be called upon to determine who shall conduct the public business, and it is the right and duty of every voter to see that none but good men are elected. The Republican candidates are ALL good men; men in whom the electorate may impose the utmost trust and feel the assurance that their public affairs will be conducted in a fair and business manner. Think a minute; go down the list and compare them and their qualifications.

At the coming election a constitutional amendment is to be voted for which is to fix a standard of qualification necessary to practice law in this State. The amendment is generally favored by attorneys, who are seeking the same protection for this profession as is accorded physicians, veterinarians, etc. In this the attorneys would seem to be fully within their rights. As it is now, anyone who has a good moral character, or who hasn't if someone will tell the court that he has, can be admitted to the bar and oftentimes only result in injuring and bringing discredit on an otherwise respectable profession.

Only fifty-eight more days for Christmas shopping.

An Indiana mule kicked a motorcycle clear across the road the other day. The good "horse sense" of the animal is fast rising in the opinion of the public.

BY THE WAYSIDE

This effusion comes from the columns of the Greensburg Democrat, and is wholly without truth, according to the police records:

A Rushville man was walking down the street week before last when he was accosted by a woman who appeared to be from the "Fatherland." She asked the Rushville man where she could procure cheap board and lodging at a private boarding house.

The man told her that it might be possible that she could board with him and his wife.

As she acquiesced he picked up her heavy valises and guided her to his home.

Reaching there he prevailed on his wife to accept the "old Dutch Woman" as a boarder, although thereby he was compelled to sleep on a cot and her to sleep with the "old Dutch Woman."

The woman boarded there several days and not long after that a criminal was arrested in Rushville and the "old Dutch Woman" proved to be a man, a detective in disguise.

When the woman of the house heard it she nearly dropped dead and now claims that the "old Dutch Woman" had the bed to herself and that she, the woman of the house, slept on a pallet. The woman's husband is still unsettled in his mind.

This actually occurred and we are in possession of the names.

INSTALL NEW CHAPTER HERE

Colored People Turn Out For Formal Exercises at Beginning of Eastern Star Order.

GRAND OFFICERS TAKE PART

Prof. J. H. Williams as Toastmaster Electrifies His Audience With Witty Introductions.

Last night, Bathsheba Chapter No. 37, Order of Eastern Star, emerged a full fledged institution. Its charter was formally delivered to it in a most impressive ceremony. It has passed through a most promising probationary period, and now starts out as a regular chartered body of an unusually bright and energetic membership. There are twenty-two names upon the roll and they embrace the best element of colored people in the city.

Walter Russell of Wabash, one of the successful business men of the colored race in this State, is grand patron. He was present and presided over the ceremonies. He is noted as one of the best patrons the Grand body has had, and is a tireless and ceaseless worker for the best interest of the order. He was accompanied by his wife, who also is prominent in the order, being a past grand officer.

Mrs. John Hale of Crawfordsville, present Grand Matron; Mrs. Jennie Lewis of Indianapolis, Past Grand Matron; John C. Dawson of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. William Rankin, Mrs. Rosa Norman of Connersville, and several other out-of-town guests and visitors were present to witness the formalities and to partake of the luxuries of the occasion.

The following officers were installed by the Grand Patron and his assistants: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Meleta Bundrant; Associate Matron, Mrs. Moanin Ramey; Treasurer, Mrs. Caroline Williams; Secretary, Miss Cora Smith; Adah, Miss Fannie Ramey; Ruth, Mrs. Ella Smith; Esther, Mrs. J. T. Leggett; Martha, Mrs. H. C. Bundrant; Electa, Miss Ida Miller; Conductresses, Miss Nannie Leggett and Mrs. Loduskie Tracy; Fred and Mr. Clint Marshall; Patron, Prof. J. H. Williams.

After the installation a sumptuous banquet was served in regulation courses. The mural and table decorations were in splendid accord with the occasion, and the profusion of vine and flower suggested the floral wealth of summer rather than autumn's fading glory. An onlooker would have thought, from the profusion of cakes, cream, salads and chicken, that a department of Delmonico's famous cafe had been transferred to that dining room, and that the bird so much admired by the Rev. Mr. Leggett and other "gentry of the cloth" literally runs wild in and around Rushville. That the occasion was a grand success, literally "a feast of reason and a flow of soul," can not be gainsaid, for the toasts, responses, repartee, and the sallies of wit would have done credit to an assemblage of elite, literary folks.

Prof. Williams was toastmaster, and his witty effusions and flashes of humor evoked frequent rounds of applause and bursts of laughter. Messrs. Russell, Dawson and Rankins contributed many good sayings and bits of logic. The Rev. Mr. Leggett, at whom Prof. Williams had leveled several shafts of wit, came back in splendid form, and the preacher was almost lost in the fun. He proved himself an adept at spinning the sentiment that graces the banquet board.

Responses were also made by Miss Cora Smith; and the Mistresses Russell, Lewis, Leggett, Bundrant, Smith, Norman, Rankins, and others. Miss Nannie Leggett enforced her response with a humorous recitation that set the crowd laughing uproariously. She is a good reader, and her contribution was a distinct feature.

While in the city Mr. and Mrs. Russell were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bundrant. Mr. Russell left on a morning train for Connersville, where he lectured this afternoon.

Mrs. Bundrant is being congratulated on all sides because of her fidelity and proficiency as matron, during the trial period of her chapter.

AMUSEMENTS

The Star-Grand presents a Kalem subject tonight entitled "Spotted Snake's Schooling," an Indian story of the present. The subject of Indian education has been discussed by societies and various individuals from time immemorial. This story shows the usual results that follow the attempt to educate and civilize the former denizens of the wild forest and prairie, and is well worth seeing. Earl Robertson will sing "Honey, When It's Sunny."

The Vaudet will have for tonight an Imp film, "Yankeeana." This is one of the Imp company's best dramas. It is a love story of war times. There are several pathetic situations, with enough humor mingled in to make the picture interesting. This is one of the best pictures the Vaudet has had for some time and has proved a good drawing card wherever it has been shown. A new illustrated song will be sung.

INTEREST IN CONTEST

Many Estimates on Rushville's Population Were Received Today.

Great interest was shown on the first day of the Daily Republican population contest. A large number of guesses were received at the office and it is expected that many more will be received tomorrow. None of the estimates will be opened until the official population statement is made by the census department. For that reason it is requested that all of the coupons be sent in in sealed envelopes.

TO DECIDE PHONE QUESTION THEN

No Telephones in School Buildings and Board Can Not Take Action Until Next Month.

FREE OR PAY IS CONTROVERSY

When the city school board meets the first Monday of next month, November seventh, it will decide whether or not telephones will be installed in the various school buildings over the city. It has been the custom to take the phones out during the summer months and replace them again in the fall. They were left out this year because the school board refused to pay the rent and also settle the small account left by the last school board.

A member of the school board holds that the telephone company directors passed a motion to give the phone service to the public schools free of charge. The superintendent of the company alleges that the motion was made but that it never had a second. At the last meeting of the school board, it was generally understood that the phones would be free and for that reason, they refused to pay, when the bill was presented.

Latest "Auto" Invention

A pneumatic spindle has been patented by R. H. Moore of Indianapolis which, if adopted, will do away with pneumatic tires, it is said. Mr. Moore was given a patent in July but has not made his invention public until this week.

The spindle is flat and shaped like a paddle. It is placed on the axle and the hub moves around over it. The axle is to be hollow and continually filled with air pumped by a pneumatic pump and the spindle rests on the cushion of air, eliminating many of the bounces now experienced by auto enthusiasts. Mr. Moore invented his spindle during his spare moments when he was the chaplain of the reformatory at Jeffersonville. He is no mechanic, but was advised by the engineer and draftsman of the reformatory.

Several automobile men have looked at the spindle and have pronounced it a good thing but Mr. Moore is experiencing trouble in getting manufacturers to adopt his idea, as it has not been tested. A manufacturer, one of the most prominent in the automobile world, according to Mr. Moore, states that it may be adopted if the spindle is demonstrated and proven a success. Mr. Moore will make a practical one to demonstrate.

A man in England has patented a spindle similar to Mr. Moore's but the idea of the two inventors to get air into the hub is different and the Indiana man says his system is the simplest and the better.

LORD LOVELAND DISCOVERS AMERICA

BY C.N. & A.M. WILLIAMSON

Copyright, 1910, by Doubleday, Page & Company
Copyright, 1908, by the McClure Company

Fortunately for Loveland, he was not obliged to walk on to the stage in answer to a cue or it seemed to him that he could not have moved. It was bad enough to be "discovered" in the act of being murdered, and as the moment came when he would have to make his first speech his blood was beating like a drum in his temples. His throat felt dry, and when his cue to speak was given by Jacobus with meaning emphasis he could only swallow and glare. Not a word of the carefully rehearsed part could he remember, and, involuntarily looking out in front, a thing Ed Binney had warned him not to do, it seemed as if the rows of faces down below the yellow footlights were leaping up at him like a wave.

Just as Jacobus bent over him, frantically glaring, ready to prompt and swear at the same time, Loveland's frozen hesitation melted into words and gestures, the right words, the right gestures. Jacobus sighed a great sigh of thanksgiving, and Val delivered his curse with a transport of zeal. He was half frightened at his own explosiveness, but the audience enjoyed it, and when the curtain went down upon his death there was a round of applause.

Though dead as Dave, it was his business to rise again in the third act as a young man of fashion—a youthful butterfly from an ancient chrysalis—and, drunk with the sweet draft of triumph, he made the change easily, as happy for the moment as if he were playing before an audience of kings and queens.

He had dressed and was lurking in the wings again, watching with some interest the arrest of the leading man for his (Loveland's) murder on false evidence snailily given by Ed Binney, when Miss de Lisle flitted noiselessly up, very insufficiently disguised as a boy.

"I suppose you do remember that you're a young English Lord?" she whispered anxiously.

Loveland started and stared. Had she found him out?

"In your next scene," she explained. "Oh," said Loveland, relieved. "Am I—or a lord?"

"Yes. Didn't Jacobus tell you? But perhaps he thought it didn't matter." "It doesn't seem to," retorted Val, smiling faintly at his own hidden meaning.

"You're supposed to be the son of the Duke of Highgate. Pa Winter's the duke, you know. Of course, though, you haven't seen the whole play yet, only your own scenes, so you can't keep track of everything. You have only to walk on, or, rather, waltz on with Miss Moon, you know. And when she goes off and I come on in girl's clothes again you must say,

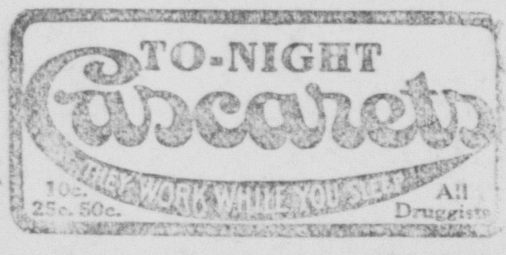

TIZ-For Sore Feet

Tired, Aching, Swollen, Smelly, Sweaty Feet? Corns, Calluses or Bunions? Use TIZ. It's Sure, Quick And Certain.

You Will Enjoy Using TIZ. The Most Pleasant Remedy You Ever Tried and Moreover It Works. At last here is instant relief and a lasting permanent remedy for sore feet. No more tired feet. No more aching feet. No more swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more corns. No more bunions. No more calluses, no matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use TIZ.

TIZ is totally unlike anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleanses them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time its used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists 5 cents per box or direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

HOW OLD PEOPLE

May Prolong Their Lives.

At an advanced age waste is more rapid than repair. The organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth. The circulation is poor—the blood thin and watery—the appetite poor and digestion weak.

We want to say to every aged person in this vicinity that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) will prolong life. It creates an appetite, aids digestion and makes good blood. In this natural manner Vinol retards waste and replaces weakness with strength, giving new life to the worn system.

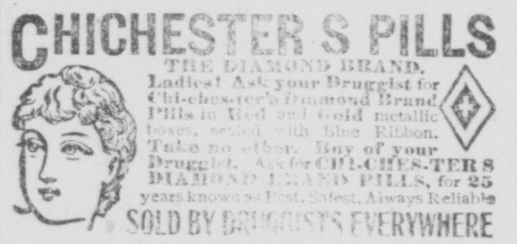

If people in this vicinity only realized how Vinol invigorates old people we would not be able to supply the demand.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by Hargrove & Mullin.

"The next is mine, I believe," with an English drawl. But the part's down on the program as "Lord William Vane."

"By Jove! I know Willy Vane. He's in the Black Wa—" began Loveland, but he bit his lip and broke off abruptly.

"The human flower" laughed. "I don't suppose your friend's a lord, though."

Loveland did not reply as the choice lay between a fib and an affirmative.

"You ought to know how lords behave more than any of us," went on the girl, "as you're an Englishman. I suppose you've seen some?"

"Yes, a few," said Val cautiously.

"Were they very haughty?"

"Not all of them."

"Well, as you've seen them you'll know just how to act, and you look real swell. Perhaps you'd rather watch Jack Jacobus' big scene than talk to me. I have to go, anyhow, in about four minutes."

"I'd rather talk to you than watch if you'll let me because I have a message for you from an old friend of yours that I've been wanting to tell you all day," Loveland began hastily, not to waste one of the four minutes. "I wonder if you remember him—Bill Willing?"

"Bill Willing—a friend of yours?" The girl spoke sharply in her surprise.

"Then you haven't forgotten him."

"Forgotten him? I never will to my dying day."

Her voice quivered a little, for, like most actresses of her type, her emotions were as easily played upon as harp strings.

"Those are almost the words he used about you," said Loveland, interested in Lillie's part of the broken love melody as he had been in Bill's, "only his were stronger."

"What were they—exactly?"

"Shall I tell you really?"

"Yes; quick, quick!"

"He said he always had loved you and always would love you till his dying day."

"Oh!" Lillie de Lisle gulped down a small sob. "I thought he'd forgotten all about me long, long ago. He never wrote."

"No; he told me he didn't dare, or something like that, but he couldn't resist sending a message by me."

"If you knew what it is to me to hear from him again! How in the world did you meet him?"

But that was a long story, and before Loveland could begin to sketch it "the human flower" heard her cue. With professional instinct she darted out of the entrance on to the stage and took up her part as if she had thought of nothing else since she laid it down.

It was not until the end of the third act that there was the smallest chance to continue the talk so suddenly broken short. Loveland had to change back again into the beard, wig and blood stained clothes of murdered Dave Dreadnought in order to appear as a ghost and wave his dead hand under the remorseful villain's nose, but this act of retribution was reserved for the end of the play; therefore, encouraged by Lillie, Val stood half concealed in the shadow of some disused scenery talking of Bill to Bill's star.

He told her of Bill's dog, Shakespeare, the tiny creature "who made up a bit for the lost 'little gal.'" He told her how Bill generally contrived to put aside a dime each week to buy a stage paper, solely in the hope of finding news of her. He described Bill's delight at hearing that she had become a "star," with her own company, and explained how it was by Bill's wish and advice that he had written to ask for his present engagement.

"If only it was my company, really," sighed the poor little star, "wouldn't I just send for Bill to come out? But I haven't got any more say than the property man, and 'J. J.' used to hate Bill, because—because he was jealous. You see, that was before Jacobus married. Oh, since you're a friend of Bill's and he told you he cared about me I can talk to you as if I'd known you forever. If Bill had asked me to marry him I would in a minute. But he never did. I wasn't sure he ever really cared till what you said tonight. He was the best man I ever knew."

"I'm not sure he isn't the best I ever knew, too," said Loveland.

"I'd have sooner begged with him than be a queen with a crown on my head if he wasn't the king!" sighed Miss de Lisle. "Don't you feel that way, too, about love?"

"Yes," Loveland answered. "I didn't always, but then I used not to understand."

"It's too late now," Bill's star went on. "We shall never see each other again."

The words echoed in Loveland's head: "Too late now. We shall never see each other again."

"The human flower's" thoughts were far away with Bill Willing. But at least she knew where he was and was sure that he loved her, while Val did not even know the name of the place near Louisville where Lesley Dearnier lived, and he was sure that she did not love him. Yes, he was sure of that, though perhaps there was a time, he told himself, when he might have made her care.

Instead of trying to win her when he had the chance he had asked her advice about the best way of making love to other girls. Oh, he deserved all he had got, he thought with sudden fury—all—even to being a waiter at Alexander's and a leading juvenile under the management of "J. J."

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY

It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town!

A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25-cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

BALLOONISTS ON WAY HOME

Hawley and Post Landed Safely in Wilderness.

TOOK WEEK TO REACH A WIRE

Missing Aeronauts Report Their Arrival at St. Ambroise, a Canadian Outpost. After a Week of Strenuous Struggle Through Well-Nigh Impassable Wilderness—"All Well," Is the Message Conveyed to Aero Club.

Chicoutimi, Que., Oct. 27.—Hawley and Post, of the America II., arrived here at 10 o'clock last night. They were in the air forty-six hours in all, and traveled approximately 1,450 miles. Mr. Post, in describing the trip, said that while they had to husband their food, their hardships were insupportable. After four days' tramping through the brush they came upon a trapper's hut and were received hospitably.

New York, Oct. 27.—Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post of the America II. are safe; not only that, but they have broken the world's record for distance traveled in a balloon. A dispatch announcing the safety of the men of whom no certain news had been heard since the start on Oct. 17 was received at the Aero club last evening. It was signed by Hawley and Post, and read:

"St. Ambroise, Saguenay, Quebec,
Oct. 26.—Landed near Peribonka river, north of Lake Chiglogoma, on 10th.
All well; returning."

When the man who got the message had done a war dance to give outlet to his feelings, he thought of the club's secretary, Charles Heitman, who was leaving on the 6:55 train for Ottawa, to take part in the hunt for the missing balloonists. A messenger jumped on board the train a minute before starting time, and told him to get off and hurry back to the club.

"I knew that meant everything was all right," said Mr. Heitman, "and you can bet I hustled back."

When he reached the club Mr. Heitman lost no time in calling up William Hawley, the balloonist's brother, who has spent the last week either at the club or at the end of a telephone wire waiting for news. He got Hawley at the latter's apartment. It was a bit hard to make Hawley understand that his brother was really safe, but when he did Mr. Heitman heard a fervent "Thank God," and then apparently Mr.
Hawley dropped the receiver.

The news at once was wired to the St. Louis club, which managed the start of the racing balloons, and to the men in Canada who were organizing searching parties.

When the excitement had cooled down a bit the thoughts of everyone at the club turned to the question, "Have they beat the Dusseldorf?"

Samuel F. Perkins, who with Pilot
Hans Gericke manned the Dusseldorf II., led the rush for the chartroom. It took some time to figure the thing out because of the indefinite nature of the message, but the club experts finally decided that the America II. had landed about seventy-five miles ahead of the Dusseldorf II., and that the race and world's record was theirs.

The Dusseldorf II. came to earth near Kiskisink, Quebec, which is estimated to be about 1,250 miles from the starting point and was the world's record until the America II. reported.
If the Aero club experts figure the thing right, the America II.'s flight was 1,325 miles in an air line from St.
Louis. The world's record before this race had been set at 1,193 miles, by Count Henry De La Vaulx in a flight from Vincennes, France, to Korostich-ev, Russia, in 1909.

While the official announcements will not be made for some time, the figuring of the Aero club people and the contestants themselves places the leading balloons in the following order: America II., Dusseldorf II., Germania. When Mr. Perkins, who in spite of sailing with the Dusseldorf II., is a Bostonian, was convinced that Hawley had the record he took another look at the spot on the map which showed the perils which must have confronted the America's crew, and said: "Well, they're a blame lucky pair, anyway. I'm glad the United States wins."

The telegram from St. Ambroise by Hawley and Post shows that they came to earth on the same day that the Dusseldorf landed and that the difficulties of travel were so great that it took them a whole week to get back to the end of a telegraph wire. St.
Ambroise is not big enough to get on the map, but it is about forty miles north of Chicoutimi, where the Saguenay river sterners make their last stop northward bound. How many of those seven days were spent in an unaided struggle with the wilderness cannot be known until Hawley sends further details. The country in which they landed is a network of lakes and rivers, dense forests and impassable marshes.

Perkins and his companion took four days and nights in traveling seventeen miles through similar country, and they lost most of their clothing in the fight with the brush.

ing engagements in Ohio.

CINCINNATI HAS A JACK THE RIPPER

Fifth In Fiendish Series Puzzles the Police.

Cincinnati, Oct. 27.—Police today find that they have absolutely no clue as to who murdered Mrs. Mary Hackney, a young married woman, whose dead body with throat cut and otherwise horribly mutilated, was found Tuesday evening by her husband, Harley Hackney, mechanic and ex-soldier, on his return from work to their humble home on Canal ridge, in the suburb of Cumminsville. The police have heretofore found themselves in just this same state in connection with four other equally fiendish murders of women committed in the same lonely locality within the past three years.
In each of these murders the victim was mutilated in much the same way as was Mrs. Hackney. Chief Corbin said that several circumstances and especially the kind of wounds indicate that the last murder was committed by the same degenerate who had slain the four other women in the same vicinity.

Roosevelt in New York State.
Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Mr.
Roosevelt hit the trail north from central New York yesterday and landed at the St. Lawrence river last night.
He kept swinging the political ax at the head of Candidate Dix with more vehemence than ever. He developed little that was new in the day's speeches. Today Roosevelt is skirmishing around Herkimer and Oneida counties, and at night he will talk in Utica, the home of Vice President Sherman.

Durant Trial in Progress.
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The trial of Edward A. Durant, formerly head of the big grain house of Durant &
Elmore company, with offices in Albany, Chicago, Buffalo and Boston, on a grand larceny indictment is in progress before the county court here.
The indictment is based on the obtaining of loans from the banks upon fraudulent bills of lading.

Three Hundred Perished.
Rome, Oct. 27.—It is ascertained that 200 people perished in the recent flood at Cetara and Vieste at Ischia.
The total number of killed is now placed at 300. The money damage is estimated at $6,000,000.

PENNSYLVANIA FACES STATE-WIDE STRIKE

Order Given For Unionists to Quit Work Election Day.

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—Labor leaders are disinclined to discuss for publication an order issued at Wilkesbarre by the officers of the State Federation of Labor calling a strike of all union men in Pennsylvania on election day, November 8.

The order for the state-wide strike was sent out from Wilkesbarre and was signed by E. E. Greenwalt, state president of the Federation of Labor, and seven vice presidents.

The strike is to begin at 7 o'clock in the morning and last until 8 o'clock at night. The men are urged to take advantage of the cessation of work to vote, but are not instructed to vote for any particular party's nominee.
The general feeling among the local leaders is that since the strike order is of a political nature, it would be wiser to wait until it was discussed and acted upon by the unions before speaking themselves.

Bearded Lady's Marriage Puts Stop to Public Career.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 27.—The "bearded lady" of Barnum & Bailey's circus became a bride yesterday. In private life the widely known performer was Miss Grace Gilbert of Kalkaska county, Michigan, but with her marriage she becomes Mrs. Giles A. Calvin. Calvin is a farmer, fifty-three years old, nineteen years older than his wife.

The "bearded lady" announced her retirement from the circus life following her marriage. She said she was born with a growth of hair on her face and that she had exhibited herself as a freak for sixteen years. "I am now going back to my husband's farm," she said, "and will never appear in a show again. I will try to make a good wife."
Mr. Calvin has no whiskers, only a mustache.

Modern Life Would Be Too Hard on the Nerves If It Were Not For Want Advertising

The pace of life has become tense.
Worries, disappointments, up-sets at home and office, losses, discouragements seem to multiply as daily life becomes more complex.

The property owner, who MUST have a steady income from rents or lose his property, is "racked" by the untimely defection of a tenant. Some classified advertising quickly retrieves his loss—and quiets his nerves!

The salary-earner unexpectedly loses his position—and his peace-of-mind. The strain would shortly "break" something in his nervous system, if, once more, want advertising did not find the better job—and restore him his mental equilibrium.

In every phase of the city's life, every day, the Want Ads play the part of the peace-maker. They SERVE you and me at some crisis in our lives—and keep the modern pace and tension from proving too fast and tight for US.

Truly, the Want Ads ARE FOR SERVICE!

SOCIETY NEWS

A pretty wedding took place at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the North Park Christian church, says the Indianapolis Star. The bride was Miss Nellie Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Hunt, and the bridegroom, A. A. Lease. The Rev. George McKee officiated. Miss Maud Bennett sang "I Love You Truly," just before the hour for the ceremony and for the entrance of the wedding party the "Lohengrin Wedding March" was rendered, and Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," as the ceremony was read. The church was attractive with palms and ferns banked around the chancel and studded in graceful greenery were baskets of white chrysanthemums.

The only attendant was the little ring bearer, Pauline Cassidy, who was gowned in a dainty white frock and carried the wedding ring in a white lily. The bride was married in her going-away gown of a gray novelty material and her waist was of gray chiffon. She wore a black, plumed hat. After a short trip the bridal couple will be at home at 130 West Thirtieth street. Among the guests who came for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Oak Park, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore of French Lick; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Del Conway, Mrs. E. A. McMahon, Mrs. L. S. Hunt and Geston P. Hunt of Rushville, Ind.

Mrs. S. H. Trabue and Mrs. B. L. Trabue entertained today with a family dinner at Mrs. Bert Trabue's home in North Morgan street in honor of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Trabue. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Tritt and Mrs. Sarah J. Thrawley of Knightstown; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Trabue of Spiceland; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Trabue of Mays; Miss Edith McKee of Olathe, Kans.; and Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Clawson of this city.

A number of friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Ball surprised them Tuesday evening, the occasion being their eleventh wedding anniversary. All of the guests carried well filled baskets and the evening was much enjoyed. Dr. and Mrs. D. D. VanOsdel and family and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tompkins and family from this city attended.

One Bears a Profile of George Washington.

Uncle Sam is issuing new one-cent domestic reply post cards. The stamp on the message card bears a profile portrait of George Washington, but on the reply card the stamp portrait is that of Mrs. Washington. The size of the new double-fold card, unfolded, is 7 by 5½ inches or 3½ by 5½ inches for each half. The paper is of blush tint and the design is printed in bronze-blue ink. A circular border carries in capital letters above the subject the words "U. S. Postal Card," and below the subjects "One Cent." Under the border is a ribbon bearing the names "Washington" and "Martha Washington" in small capitals.

BELL COMPANY IS NOT BLOWN UP

General Manager White Returns From Canada With Plans to Push Manufacturing Plant.

INTEREST IS REVIVED AGAIN

Dr. Bell, President, Said to be at Vincennes, Where Factory Will be Located.

William L. White, general manager of the Bell Smokeless Powder company, who left St. Paul some several weeks prior to the hurried departure of Dr. J. W. Bell, president of the company, which departure occurred a few weeks ago, arrived there Tuesday evening. He at once hunted up the officers: Harry W. Ballard and George E. Swartz, and they had a conference.

What transpired at this conference has not been given out; however, it was learned that while the public was of the opinion that the "whole works" had "blown up," the concern is yet very much alive.

It has developed that Mr. White has been in Hamilton, Canada, since he left St. Paul. He was in arbitration with a cartridge concern located at that place which is interested in the Bell products. It was also learned that White was joined there by Bell when the latter left so hurriedly.

In an interview with Mr. White yesterday afternoon he stated that the company is preparing to build their main factory at Vincennes, Ind., and that work will begin in about thirty days.

He stated that stock is selling rapidly and that $6,000 worth has already been subscribed for. They intend to dispose of only about $15,000 worth before the factory building is erected and the machinery installed.

The St. Paul plant will be maintained as originally planned. The reason given by White for the factory being located at Vincennes is that the law requires that the main factory and office must be located where the bulk of the stock is subscribed.

Dr. Bell is said to be at Vincennes busily engaged in arranging the details of the proposed plant and getting ready for the work of construction.

Vincennes offered them a large bonus prior to the sale of stock at Shelbyville and this is given as the reason that the manufactory will be located at that place.

Rushville Art Brass Company Has Innovation That Resembles Correspondence School

WILL SELL SETS OF TOOLS

Every indication points to the fact that the Rushville Art Brass company, located in the Daily Republican building, will be turned into a veritable correspondence school, but at the same time they will keep up their steady manufacture of brass, copper, silver, art and craft goods. The promoters of the company will sell the plain pattern of articles of every description in the above metals to be worked out. They will also have for sale sets of tools with which the pierced craft work can be done and local people can work out their own articles according to any design they desire. The company is having a new elaborate thirty-two page catalogue, giving prices and designs of their work printed, which will be completed in a few days. It will contain over four hundred illustrations. They are overrun with orders and have not yet been able to get a stock ready for display in a local store.
